A PRIVATE letter from Chilliwack, B. C., informs us that the fruit season is about over. They have had very hot weather for the past five or six weeks. The plum crop is an entire failure this year in the valley. As a rule they have a very heavy crop of small black preserving plums there, but there are scarcely any on the trees this year, and consequently plums will be very dear.

The council of the board of trade met in L. Com's office on Tuesday evening. Mr. Oliver M. F., being present by request. The various committees presented their reports, and resolutions were passed embodying the ideas of the board as to what should be done by the Dominion government for the development of the country tributary to Edmonton. The resolutions were handed to Mr. Oliver with a request that he would submit them to the authorities at Ottawa.

The Ladies Hospital Aid Society have chartered the "Northwest" for excursions on Saturday and Sunday. The boat will leave Fraser's landing at 1 p. m. and Walter's landing at 1.30 returning to the upper landing at 5.30 p. m. For a second trip, leaving at 6.30 p. m. and returning at 10.30 p. m. Refreshments will be sold on board. Persons not leaving the steamer will be charged only single fare for both trips.

THIS lawn tennis tournament commenced this morning with gentlemen's singles. The first contest was between E. C. Emery and D. Campbell. Emery won two games. The second pair were St. Geo. Jellett and H. B. Spratt. Jellett won two games. A. McNicol and Frank Hardisty were the only pair to play off later.

The balance of the contests in the tournament consists of 13 gentlemen's singles; 8 gentlemen's doubles; 6 mixed doubles; and 4 ladies' singles.

LARUE & PIERCE are shipping 23 bales of fur weighing from 225 to 275 pounds each by to-morrow's train to Lampong of London, England. This fur is partly the trade from their own Peace river posts and partly their purchases for cash. Messrs. Larue & Pierce propose to re-organize their northern posts, by withdrawing a large number of posts, and establishing a large wholesale and retail establishment at Lesser Slave lake, which will be established and managed for the first winter by Mr. Larue assisted by Mr. Larive. Mr. Larue will leave for Slave lake by the last boats of the season.

J. F. KELSEY, father of A. Kelsey, of Agrioola, arrived from England on Monday's train on a visit to his son. Mr. Kelsey says that one of the causes impeding a good class of immigrants coming from England is the rough discount shown to second and third class passengers on the steamers between Liverpool and Quebec. After they reach Quebec Mr. Kelsey says that the C. P. R. and Dominion government officials show every kindness and help all along the road; but on board the steamer the ship officials under the purser and doctor do their worst to discourage passengers who don't choose to pay salmon fare.

The second class passenger, Mr. Kelsey says, is exactly the class of immigrant required, but the pursers, doctors and stewards of the Allan line don't think so. It is not the chief officers who are to blame, but their duties do not bring them in contact with the passengers. In any contract for new mail arrangements the Dominion should insist that immigrants to Canada who are civil and clean are to be treated with civility while on board.

THE sisters of the general hospital beg to acknowledge very gratefully the kind remembrance for their patients in different ways by the following persons during the month of July: Mrs. Robert Breher, H. B. Co., friends from St. Albert, Mrs. Voyer, W. J. Adamson, Mrs. Dr. Wilson, Mrs. St. Geo. Jellett, Jos. Kelly (services from the livery stable), Mr. and Mrs. McNamara, the Misses Fairbank, Mrs. Bown, Mrs. Lauder, Mr. Mrs. Dr. Braithwaite, Mr. T. A. Stephen, Mrs. S. S. Taylor, Mrs. Kinaird, Misses Mabel and May McCauley, Miss Evans and several other young ladies who brought bouquet of flowers for the wards, in time to all those who helped the hospital in any way. May the hundred fold here below be granted them by the divine remunerator. Nineteen patients, 10 males and 9 females, were treated in the hospital during the last month. Dr. McNamara is the attending physician for August, assisted by Dr. Wilson.

BISHOP YOUNG arrived from the Landing yesterday.

The Presbyterian Sunday school will hold their annual picnic on Saturday, August 15th.

A. McLEOD was charged before Insp. Snyder with stealing a watch from J. Hall. The case was adjourned on the 28th July for one week. H. H. Robertson defended and J. C. F. Bown acted for Hall. Sometime ago Hall lent McLeod, who was in his employ, the watch to time his watch, as not to overwork a team on a trip to town. While in town McLeod pawned the watch. McLeod won a verdict in a wages case against Hall two weeks ago, and Hall then laid the present information to recover the watch. On Tuesday the case was dismissed owing to a technicality in the wording of the information, but Hall was bound over on his own request to bring the case before the judge at the next sittings of the Supreme court here.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.

THE only Edmonton candidates who was successful at the recent examination for school teachers was Miss Maggie Young who sat for a third class and secured it. In South Edmonton Miss Emily Knapp, third class was the only one successful. In the entrance examination the successful were: Mabel Cameron, Stanley Dean, Annie Evans, Maud Lauder, Alice McLoughlin, Inga Oliver and Mary Tough, all of Edmonton; Alice Boyce, G. West and May Gould, of Wetaskin; Frank Caracadden, Dick Smith, H. N. Smith, Ella Ottewill and W. J. Ottewill, of Clover Bar; Jennie Gardner and May Maloney, St. Albert. There was only one successful candidate for a first class teacher's certificate in all the Territories, seven second and seventy-six for third class. In the examination of pupils for promotion from Standard III to IV, Alma Berg, J. Greenwood, Rose Dunlop, H. Greenwood, T. A. McCauley, Ethel Matheson, J. M. McQuill, Dr. Oliver, Eva Watson and W. Young were successful.

RIOT AT ST. ALBERT.

Information was received at the barracks here about 7 o'clock last night that sixty armed settlers of St. Albert had torn down the house of L. Com and thrown it into the river together with his furniture, and had ordered him of the land, threatening to kill him if he returned. J. B. Savoie and Dennis Hebert also complained that a tent had been removed by the crowd. Insp. Snyder with four men went out and a non-commissioned officer and two men were wired for from Fort Saskatchewan. The police are at St. Albert now.

Octave Mageau settled some years ago on a river lot in St. Albert settlement which was bought by the British water of the river. Subsequently the water receded leaving a large tract of land between the original high water mark and the present water's edge. A homestead entry for the lot left by the receding water was granted to L. Com, and Mageau has been in correspondence with the government for some time, contending that the land right to the water's edge belonged to him, and the government had at last practically admitted that his claim was correct.

ATHABASCA DIOCESE.

BISHOP YOUNG came in from the Landing yesterday. His last visit to Edmonton was in October 1895. The work in his diocese of Athabasca has progressed steadily at all the missions. At Smoky river the Rev. Henry Robinson suffered bereavement by the death of his wife on June 14th. At this mission there is a farm in which Indians are taught practical agriculture, and those of them who choose to settle down to farming are assisted in every possible way. Last year owing to drouth the crops at this mission and settlement were an entire failure. A. Mackenzie, at the H. B. Co's post there, also lost his crops. These people have received no government aid in the form of seed grain. Prospects this season are much better. Mr. Robinson is busily engaged in erecting a building for church and school purposes, and expects to open the school with 10 or 15 children.

ST. Luke's mission is at Vermilion, Peace River. Rev. Mr. Scott, of this mission, is at present away attending the provincial and general synod. Mr. A. J. Warwick has charge of the school at which there is an average attendance of 15 to 20. There is one outpost at Red River where Indians belonging to St. Luke's mission come to trade.

At St. Paul's mission, Fort Chipewyan on Lake Athabasca, Rev. G. R. Lucas is in charge of the work which is amongst the Chipewyan Indians.

At Wabuseo mission the Rev. Charles Weaver has charge. This mission lies north of the regular route of travel, a good distance in the interior of the country, between the Athabasca and Peace rivers. They have an Indian school there.

At White Fish lake mission Rev. W. G. White is missionary. He is at present taking the place of Rev. J. Holman, at Slave lake, while that gentleman is on furlough in England. Mr. L. S. White, brother of the missionary, is looking after the residents at White Fish lake mission during his brother's absence. The work at the last two missions is entirely amongst Cree Indians.

In these missions every year there are from 30 to 40 Indians baptized. In the north generally the Indians male and female, have all given up native dress, and adopted that of civilization. More or less, however, they still observe their medicine rites, and at some points they hold their tea dance, which is a kind of invocation, in connection with the worship of their sun-e-to-kans or fetich. Outwardly, however, they give every appearance of being perfectly civilized. All Indians who are baptized by the missionaries are required to renounce these heathen customs.

MARRIAGES.

SKINNER-LAWRENCE.-At Chicago on Friday, July 24th, 1896, Mr. James Edward Skinner, M. D., of Chicago, to Miss Susan Hunt Lawrence, M. D., of Vermilion, Peace River.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

SIR: The late frosts in this district naturally leads to the enquiry, whether any means can be adopted to prevent, or, at all events, to modify its action. Science has done much in these days, has it done nothing to help us in this direction? A brief explanation of one or two of the laws producing summer frost, with the suggestion of what, I understand, has been tried in Manitoba with beneficial effect, may, to some extent, perhaps, help us in future.

In an ordinary well cultured country the heat from the sun is absorbed by the earth and vegetation to the extent of sixty per cent, while the other forty per cent. is absorbed by the atmosphere. This heat absorbed during the day is radiated, or given off, during the night, particularly by plants, which are strong radiators, when the sun is below the horizon and consequently the air becomes cooler. However great this radiation may be as a rule, in a cloudy night, there is not much harm done, as the clouds reflect back a large proportion of the heat up on the plants, but on a clear, bright night when there are no clouds, the heat is radiated so fast and to so great extent into what is really empty space, that the water on the surface of plants in the form of dew and that of which all vegetation contains a very large percentage is reduced in temperature below the freezing point, and the plants are frozen and blight ensues. To prevent this radiation on a clear cloudless night of the heat absorbed during the day, vegetation in gardens may be protected by sacks, straw, or other covering which can easily be removed in the morning. However, for crops in fields, it may be done by kindling a fire of brush, grass or other material to the windward of the parts to be protected, so that the smoke, even, where there may not be much heat, may form artificial clouds, so as to throw back the radiated heat upon the vegetation, whence it has come. In a country like this, where so much brush and grass may be had simply for the labor of cutting, there should not be much difficulty in putting this suggestion to the test. If found effective arrangements, at the end of seed time could be made to lay material in suitable spots so as to be ready when frost threatens.

Yours, &c.,
JOHN FERRIE,
Lacombe, Alta.

DRAYTONVILLE.

Crops are looking good. No signs of frost as yet.

V. Tuttle, of South Edmonton, was visiting friends here the last week.

Mr. Drayton has some spring rye sown the 14th of May, that will be ready to cut in a few days.

Mr. Pacholke caught another black bear last Saturday.

Hay is good this year. There will be hundreds of tons not cut in this neighborhood.

A new bridge has been built on the southeast corner of H. H. Drayton's farm. It was needed badly and will be a great improvement to the Beaver lake trail.

Mr. Lovering is making bricks on his farm and is doing well. Alberta needs a few more such men as Mr. Lovering and then it will be a prosperous place to live in.

Small fruits are plentiful in this locality this season. Cranberries in particular.

July 30, 1896.

THE ARMY WORM.

Drayton, North Dakota Echo: "There has been a good deal of excitement along the Red river country in this vicinity during the past ten days over the appearance of the destructive army worm in the meadows and grain fields. These pests have appeared by the millions, but as yet have not gotten far away from the river, from where they appear to have sprung quite suddenly. They have already done immense damage among the river bank crops through Pembina and Walsh counties, N. D., on the west side, and through Kittson and Marshall counties Minn., on the east side. Professor Waldron, of the State Agricultural college, says that a deeply plowed furrow will stop their progress, as they cannot crawl up the smooth side of the same. They will crawl to and into the furrow, when straw may be thrown upon them and fire set thereto to destroy them. Other methods of extermination were suggested by Prof. Waldron, such as sprinkling with Paris Green water along the outside of the grain fields and meadows before them, from a solution of  $\frac{1}{2}$  pound of Paris Green to one barrel of water. Also by cutting and burning the grass or grain over them. The ground in some places seems literally full of these destructive worms, and no delay should be permitted in exterminating their death at the earliest possible moment. It will take them only a few weeks to destroy all the grain and grass crops in this part of the state if they are not put out of the way quickly."

A London despatch of Aug. 1st, says: A row boat, Fox containing two Swedish sailors, F. Harbo and Geo. Samuelson, who started from New York, June 6th, last with the intention of rowing to Havre, France, arrived at Scilly Islands to-day. Both occupants of the small craft are in good health.

GENERAL NEWS.

Officials of the interior department estimate that immigration to Canada to date this season is fully five per cent below the arrival of last spring. This means that unless great improvement takes place by autumn this will be one of the dulllest immigration seasons in many years.

Though the Queen may not be actually upon the point of retiring, it is stated by those who are in a position to judge of situation that Her Majesty has felt the weight of her years more and more since the death of the late Prince Henry of Battenberg, who was a most constant and devoted attendant upon the ancient sovereign and that the retirement of the latter from active participation in the affairs of the state cannot be much longer delayed.

Vancouver World: It is quite evident from the tone of the Eastern press representing the views of the liberal party that it is not the intention of the government of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier to be in any degree hostile to the Canadian Pacific railway company and its vested interests throughout this country. There is the strongest reason for believing that the scheme of at once constructing the section of the Canadian Pacific Railway westward from Lethbridge through the heart of the Crow's Nest Pass into the heart of Kootenay, which is to-day the greatest mining district on the globe, will receive such assistance from the administration as will ensure the completion of that line at an early date."

Mosheim Spectator, conservative: It will be comparatively safe to rule Sir Donald out of the running as minister of interior if only for the good or sufficient reason that probably he was never in it. As between Martin or Sifton, of Manitoba, and Oliver, of the Territories, we hope to see the final choice fall on the last named. The new minister should be something more than a successful politician. He should be a man who knows of his own knowledge and his own experience, the needs of the west. He should have brains and breadth, courage and originality enough to grasp the problems which lie before him. The west needs a man who can take its affairs boldly and bodily out of the rut of officialism. It is easy and not unusual for the third rate men whom our system of local representation often admits into the cabinet circle to become the perfunctory puppets of the permanent officials of their departments. We do not want a man of this stamp. The new minister must be a western man, and either Martin, Sifton or Oliver will be acceptable, with Oliver for choice. There is a report that the vacancy will not be filled till the school question is settled, but we decline to treat such a rumour seriously. It is enough to say that the west is around and critical and not in humour to become the victim of cabinet convenience. We want a minister of the interior, we want a good minister, and we want him quick, school question or school question.

THE LOCAL ELECTION.

The polling for the election of a member of the assembly took place in the Edmonton district last Tuesday without any excitement. Mr. Rutherford was on this side of the river from early in the day till near the close of the poll, while Mr. McCaulley spent the day in South Edmonton. The elections came in a steady stream all day to vote at both Edmonton polling places. The total polled in town was 360 out of which McCaulley got 312 while in South Edmonton the total vote was 221 out of which Rutherford had 189. Even after the close of the poll and at the announcement of the result there was no noise made, but later in the evening some of the young men, friends of Mr. McCaulley determined to do him honor. They laid their plans and waited the results from Belmont, Stony Plain, Sandy Lake and Clover Bar, when McCaulley's majority was 214. The band was ordered out, torches were lit, and a procession was formed outside the fire hall which marched to Mr. McCaulley's house and placed him in the sully he used in Dominion Day races and drew him in the procession, which was followed and proceeded down Main street to the Queen's where Mr. McCaulley at the call of the crowd addressed a few words of thanks to them from the balcony. He was then escorted back home in the same manner. The crowd was up with cheer for everyone, after Mr. McCaulley had made another speech complimenting and thanking the band.

The poll in the different polling divisions were as follows:

	McCaulley.	Rutherford.
Belmont,	36	3
Clover Bar,	64	18
Edmonton East,	163	23
Edmonton West,	150	23
South Edmonton,	34	197
Stony Plain East,	27	0
Stony Plain West,	54	2
Leduc,	23	62
Sandy Lake,	12	6
Milliet Siding,	5	4
	567	400

McCaulley's majority 167

Four ballots were spoiled and two objected to.

The deputy returning officer, of South Edmonton division returned Rutherford 189, McCaulley 32, spoiled 11. From Sandy Lake the report was, Rutherford 63, McCaulley 12, objected to 3, spoiled 4. It will be seen that in the recount nearly the whole of the ballots which the deputy returning officers returned as spoiled were allowed by the returning officer in the recount.

GOLD SAVING MACHINERY.

F. M. Mahan the inventor of the minir plans put in by Judge Rouleau has given us full particulars of the process which are as follows:

The gold bearing gravel may be mined by hand shovels, or road scrapers and is conveyed to the mixing and separating tank which is an oblong sheet iron box having a concave bottom, and also a concave perforated sheet steel false bottom, rising obliquely from about the center of the tank at one end, to the top at the other end. Above and parallel to this false bottom, is a long horizontal shaft, having a number of bevelled mixers, set spirally around the shaft. These mixers are filled with holes, to prevent the water from being thrown out with the stones and rubbish at the dump end of the tank. The mixers also have projections to facilitate the mixing process. Water is supplied to this tank by a steam pump, and compressed air is forced into the tank to agitate the material and separate the fine dust from the stones. The lower end of the horizontal shaft where the dirt is fed to the machine, is under water, which thoroughly wets the material as soon as it enters the tank. The revolutions of the shaft stir the gravel and convey the useless part of it out to the dums end and throws it out. The fine sand containing the gold passes through the false bottom, and drops into the boot of the tank in the form of slush and silt. This part of the machine is charged with quicksilver which separates the shot gold, and an elevator conveys the still finer silt and dust gold to the amalgamating tank over a carbonized electrode table. The amalgamating tank is a square, upright sheet iron box containing removable silver plates which are so placed as to form a zigzag passage for the silt from the top to the bottom. At the bottom of this tank is a honey-combed drawer, also charged with quicksilver, and this will catch any gold which has not adhered to the silver plates. From this the remaining refuse is washed out over an oscillating table with silverized plates into a waste vat. It is practically impossible for any gold to be lost by being washed out into this vat, and the whole process seems to be so arranged that not a particle of the gold can possibly be lost. We look forward with interest to reports as to the success of the appliance on the Saskatchewan, and the enterprise of Judge Rouleau in bringing such a valuable plant into our midst is certainly commendable. The whole plant is operated by a portable horizontal engine and boiler.

A Toronto telegram of July 30th says: Sixteen cases of guns, containing 320 pieces, on their way to this city, consigned to Chas. Irwin, customs house broker. From a Belgian firm, will be detailed at this port pending an investigation, as J. Enos Thompson, the Spanish consul here, applied to the government that the regulations in connection with firearms passing through a country when a war is in progress, be enforced. It is suspected that the arms for the Cuban insurgents. Irwin says that the guns are a regular consignment and are to be distributed throughout the western part of Canada. The customs authorities will make an investigation.

At a meeting of the butter and cheese association at Montreal, George Sandfield MacDonald, son of the late John Sandfield MacDonald, representing the Patrons, urged that the government be asked to make inquiry into the policy of the Australian and Argentine governments in regard to export of meat and dairy products to British markets. The patrons, he intimated, wanted to know how these countries were treating Canadians in British markets.

A monster petition to the federal government, praying for the further restrictions of Chinese immigration to Canada is being circulated in B. C. The petition will contain over 10000 names when it is sent to Ottawa. The petition recites that Chinese labor is driving out the white working men; that the U. S., realizing this, has excluded the Mongolian coolies, and that Canada should adopt measures to keep them out. It urges that a tax of $500 be levied upon each Chinaman entering the Dominion.
